

Reasons for Use Package Purpose and Terms of Use

The Reasons for Use Package website has been developed to assist staff to explore mental health and alcohol and/or other drug issues (dual diagnosis) in a respectful, non-judgemental manner with their consumers. It does not seek to diagnose people.

The evidence base we have developed over numerous years indicates that using the package increase staff confidence and knowledge in working with consumers with dual diagnosis issues and that consumers engage positively with the package when the RFUP is used as intended.

Your use of this web site constitutes your agreement that you:

- Complete the relevant training prior to using the RFUP with a consumer
- Maintain the fidelity of the RFUP. I.e. That you use it in the way it is intended
- Continue to hold the duty of care for the consumer whilst you are using the package with them
- Be responsible for the management and maintenance of any identifiable consumer information stemming from the use of the RFUP
- Only give access to the resource to appropriately trained staff within your organisation
- Understand that your access code is NOT transferable
